

I am currently enrolled on the Indiana Do Not Call list and understand that the Consumer Bankers Association wants to weaken my protection as a resident of Indiana by allowing banks that I do business with to make unwanted telephone solicitations just because I have a business relationship with them.

I am strongly opposed to this unwanted intrusion of my privacy and hope that you will not allow the banks to weaken Indiana's Do Not Call statute.

How would you like to get calls from your bank every night asking you to buy their latest promotional offer?
